

Circles

October 1-3, 2010

A retreat-conference-gathering for all women—and men whatever your sexual orientation, sex/gender designation at birth, whatever your age, race, or cultural affiliation, whether or not you are politically, socially, or anatomically, 'correct'. Circles embraces everyone whatever their gender identity/ies.

Circles is an opportunity to leave fear, shame, awkwardness, homophobia, and genderphobia behind and move toward an integration and acceptance of who we are as people. It is finding our way back to wholeness, reclaiming our lives, opening to the many dimensions of this journey - spiritual and personal, as well as cultural, social and political.

Together we will explore the varied landscapes of identity, gender, and sexuality. We will look at common ground, and common difference. What do we share in our souls? How can we support each other? Can we free ourselves from the many assumptions that are held by the dominant culture and that cause us isolation and fear? Can we embrace our deep diversity? What unique gifts can we bring to feminism and to the broader struggles for human rights? What can we learn as we uncover new aspects of ourselves that we may never have imagined existed?

For those who have felt excluded from other retreats and conferences, Circles is a chance to enjoy safe, inclusive, non-judgemental space. For those who have taken gender identity for granted, it may challenge your assumptions about gender and deepen your understanding of who you are.

If you are you ...

- ⊙ transgendered or gender-queer and looking for community and connection?
- ⊙ straight/bi/gay/gender-queer/trans/intersexed and still questioning!
- ⊙ in a relationship with a transgendered person, now or in the past?
- ⊙ a therapist or educator and who addresses issues of gender and gender-identity in your work?
- ⊙ seeking new directions for feminist or queer thought, identity, and action?

then Circles is for You!

Schedule

Arrival and Orientation:

Friday, October 1 between 1:00-6:00 pm

Conference Ends: Sunday, October 3, at 3:00 pm

Retreat participants who wish, can facilitate a workshop. These will be planned prior to the event. Also everyone will be asked to help in the kitchen and with final cleanup - (many hands make light work!)

In addition to scheduled workshops there will be time to rest, hike, journal, hang out etc. There are trails for hiking and plenty of open space. Clothing optional sauna will be available in cold weather.

Meals are delicious + vegetarian, served family-style.

Special diets can be handled with advance notice. (please let us know of your needs when you register)

Location

"Circles" is now part of the regular program offered by Five Changes and Manzanita Village Retreat Center. We are in a secluded, unspoiled valley adjacent to several thousand acres of national forest in Northeast San Diego County. We are 2½ hours from Los Angeles and 1½ hours from San Diego. With advance notice, rides can be arranged. If you are flying into the area from elsewhere please let us know well in advance so that we can coordinate a ride for you.

Creating Sanctuary

Circles is a retreat-conference for anyone who is transgendered (ftm or mtf), (pre-, post-, and non-operative - at any stage of transition), intersex, gender-queer, or people simply questioning gender and gender-identity; allies of trans women and men, and anyone interested in such exploration in a small, safe, non-sexual gathering of like-minded folk.

the quiet beauty of the setting, and the grace and support of the participants reminded me of how wonderful life can be. I can't imagine anyone not being touched by the community of kindred spirits I encountered here . . .
